

Giving Something Back – Vodafone help out in the Bracknell Community

Vodafone believes in giving something back to the communities it operates in. A great way to do this is to encourage all its employees to take up to 24 hours paid volunteering leave every year to help a local cause.

On 9th December 2013 a group of volunteers contributed their time and effort to get Age Concern Bracknell Forest's new office space ready for occupation.

The tasks included laying a new floor and redecorating a hallway and toilet area.

The team from Vodafone included Steven, Stuart, Mark, Harjit, James and Julie alongside Tracey, Lee, Rosemary, Joe and Bob from Age Concern.

Tracey Hedgecox, Chief Officer commented "It was a great team effort and the office looks so much more presentable now. The Vodafone team did a fantastic job and even cleaned up after themselves! I couldn't have asked for more. I hope we can work together again on a fund raising initiative in the future. "
